

COUNCIL WILL RUN SKATING RINK FOR THE 1928-9 SEASON

BIG RAFT OF BUSINESS DEALT WITH IN HEAVY AGENDA

A Regular Meeting of the Town Council was held on Tuesday last in the Council Chamber on the above date.

Members present: Mayor Foster and Councillors Clifton, Huntingford, Morris, Pettie, Robinson and Welch. Minutes of the last regular meeting were read and on motion adopted.

A communication was read from The Calgary Power Co. Ltd. dealing with water works and sewage proposals for the Town.

The matter was left in the hands of Coun. Huntingford on which a report was made to the Council, after the matter had been gone fully into by Mr. C. C. Planche explaining all details from the engineering point of view.

A communication was read from the Northwest Canadian Land Corporation Ltd. in regard to the disposal of garbage etc which has been deposited on their land by the Town, asking that the same be removed; also offering a proposal in regard to the disposal of land occupied as the nuisance grounds.

The Scavenging Committee reported as follows on the communication: "That we have fully considered the tentative offer contained in the letter from the Northwest Canadian Land Corporation Limited, of Edmonton, whereby the company proposes an exchange of properties on the N.W. 1/4 and the S.W. 1/4 of 29-44-6W4 between the Town of Wainwright and the said company and in this connection we would recommend as follows:-

"That an agreement be entered into with the Northwest Canadian Land Corporation to transfer to the said company all land a present standing in the name of the Town in the N.W. 1/4 of 29-44-6W4, lying south of the C.N.T. Railroad, in exchange for a similar number of acres as shall therein be found, which similar acreage shall be situated on the S.W. corner of the S.W. 1/4 of 29-44-6W4 and which shall be transferred to the Town of Wainwright free of costs to the Town.

"That the S.W. corner of the S.W. 1/4 of 29-44-6W4, immediately the transfer of the same to the Town of Wainwright is effected, shall, bylaw of the Town of Wainwright, be known and proclaimed as the Public Nuisance ground of the said town, and that the final acreage allotted on the S.W. corner of the S.W. 1/4 of 29-44-6W4 for the purpose of such nuisance ground shall be properly fenced and enclosed and fitted with proper and sufficient entrance gate, at the expense of the Town, and that after proper notification of such action any and all persons using land other than such allotted ground for the depositing of any rubbish or nuisance shall be rigorously dealt with.

"That the Committee have power to make the necessary arrangements for the removal of all rubbish and other nuisance at present lying upon the N.W. 1/4 of 29-44-6W4 wherever found to the S.W. corner of the S.W. 1/4 of 29-44-6W4 to be done in a manner which shall be entirely satisfactory to the Council of the Town of Wainwright. It being understood that no necessity arises for the removal of the barn manure therefrom provided same is spread out on the land where it shall be found.

Moved by Coun. Huntingford—That the report of the Scavenging Committee be adopted and the recommendations contained therein be carried out.—Carried.

A communication from the Asst. Land Commissioner of the C.N.R. regarding roadways in Wainwright towards regarding the extension of Second and Fourth Avenues across the unsubdivided portion of their land east of the Town.

CHAUTAUQUA HERE FOR FOUR DAYS

It won't be long now till this community will have the pleasure of listening to some good chautauqua programs. These programs are the cream of the six day summer chautauqua that have appeared in Alberta during the past season.

A committee of local enterprising citizens have guaranteed their appearance and will soon start selling season tickets which are very moderate in price considering all the good programs that will be brought to town.

Reserve these date for Chautauqua and come prepared to listen to some real artists.

ARMISTICE & MEMORIAL IS PROPERLY CELEBRATED IN WAINWRIGHT SUNDAY

ELITE THEATRE IS CROWDED TO WHEN VETERANS ATTEND TO HONOR DEAD

Marking the tenth anniversary of the signing of the armistice at the close of the Great World War, the local members of the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. mustered at the Town hall on Sunday afternoon and led by the Town Band in full force and all wearing their medals and ribbons, marched to the theatre which building was packed to the doors for the annual memorial and armistice day service which this year was in charge of the Revs N. Whitmore, G. Tremblay, and W. S. Brooker all of Wainwright.

In opening the service after the singing of "O Canada" the chairman Mr. Whitmore outlined the tenets of the gathering, and read to his audience the actual wording of the Peace Pact which was signed on behalf of all the Great Powers in August last (and whereby it is hoped to outlaw war for all time).

The Rev Mr. Brooker offered prayer with such a soul-stirring earnestness as to touch the hearts of his hearers and followed this by the reading of an appropriate passage of scripture from the prophets.

Mr. Tremblay to whom fell the duty of delivering the address of the afternoon, enlarged greatly upon the idea of a world free from war and tumult and pointed out that the only real manner in which this can be accomplished is to win the whole world for Christ, whose salvation was the only permanent peace which could be expected.

The congregation joined most heartily in the well-known hymns, the singing of which was led by the band and during the afternoon "The Rosary" was played as a earnest solo by Mr. Frank Stott, with Mrs. Stott accompanying at the piano.

At the close of the service at the theatre, the veterans were given the right of "fall in" and the whole assembly gathered at the memorial clock tower where wreaths and other emblematic tributes were placed by members of the L.O.O.F. and others in memory of those "when went and came not back again."

After the "two minute silence" "The Last Post" was sounded by Bugler Stott and the National Anthem closed the proceedings.

WATER & SEWER MATTER REVIEWED FOR PREPARATION

COUNCIL DECIDE TO GO FULLY INTO PROPOSAL AT EARLY DATE

The following is the report which Councillor Huntingford presented to the Council at its meeting last week. As will be seen from this the matter of sewer and water works for our town is being pursued as vigorously as possible so that this mark of modernity in our town may become effective as soon as is possible. If the burgesses decide favorably upon the matter when it is laid before them. The report reads as follows:

To the Mayor and Council
Town of Wainwright
Your Committee on Utilities beg to report as follows:—

That we have received from the accredited representative of the Calgary Power Co. Ltd. in furtherance of requests regarding the installation of Waterworks and Sewerage schemes for the Town of Wainwright, the following very comprehensive report covering in slight detail the points required to be laid before your Council.

The report is as follows:
Walter J. Huntingford, Esq., Chairman Utilities Committee, Town of Wainwright, Wainwright, Alberta.

In reply to your request of the 29th ult., for a tentative report on the question of water and sewer services for the Town of Wainwright, I would say that we have devoted considerable time to a study of this scheme and I am glad herewith to give you the results obtained from our preliminary investigations.

Technical designs have been prepared for a water distribution system to cover in the initial installation, practically all of the town as now existing with provision for future expansions as the town grows.

The initial installation is designed to serve the following streets and avenues:—

Second Ave., from Alberta St., to Ontario St.
Third Ave., from Queen St., to Main St., and from King St., to Ontario St.
Fourth Ave., from Alberta St., to Ontario St.
Fifth Ave., from Main St., to Dominion St.
Sixth Ave., from Quebec St., to Ontario St.
Main St., from First Ave., to Sixth Ave.

Provision is made in the design for future extensions to serve the whole area between First Avenue and Tenth Avenue and between Ontario Street and the Hospital.

The area included in the proposed initial development contains about 178 potential customers and as a preliminary estimate it is thought that about 140 customers would be obtained in this area.

The type of rate proposed would consist of a monthly service charge based on the number of services per mile of distribution system, with provision for future extensions.

On the occasion of their leaving the district, where they have resided for many years, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Green, of Auburnville, were made the recipients of a leather club bag and a leather hat box as tokens of esteem from the many friends and acquaintances. The presentation took place at a surprise party numbering some fifty guests. All of these had a splendid time and a dandy lunch was provided. Mr. and Mrs. Green are leaving for the coast owing to ill health and we wish them success in their new surroundings.

LOCAL NOTES

Many will be interested to know that Miss Jeanie McClymont, formerly of Greenhills, was married in Toronto on November 8th.

vision for a decreasing service charge as the number of customers per mile increased, and a graduated monthly consumption charge based on the number of cubic feet of water consumed. An estimate of the Capital Cost of the system and of the yearly cost of operation indicates that with 140 customers connected in the area outlined above, a supply of water sufficient for the normal requirements of an average residence can be provided at a charge to the customer of something less than $3.50 per month.

The plans also call for the installation of 28 hydrants for fire protection purposes, these to be installed by the Town at an approximate cost of $150.00 each and to be serviced and supplied with water for fire protection, street watering, sewer flushing, etc., at an annual charge of $100.00 per hydrant.

The estimated cost of a sewer system to serve the district outlined above, including disposal plant and outfall sewer to carry the effluent to Bushy Head Lake is $48,000.00 and the annual operation cost about $1,800.00 exclusive of the amortization charges. It must be born in mind that this is not a utility in the ordinary sense of the word but rather a capital charge proposition and there is not the opportunity to make savings in operating costs that there is in water or electric light properties and that it will cost the Town more as a whole if the sewer system is operated by the Company. On the other hand, of course by the Company undertaking the sewer project it would relieve the Town of the capital investment.

The following methods of financing the Sewerage System are suggested: (1) Operated by the Company: Revenue obtained.—Town as a whole $3500 per year Water Customers 3000 per year

If there are 140 customers each will pay $3.50 per month. (2) Town undertaking construction of sewers and charging part of cost as local improvement. (Note—The Company could undertake to operate the disposal plant, etc., if the Town (Continued on page 4)

PICTURE DRAMA IS WITHOUT A VILLIAN

CAPTAIN FLAGG & SERGEANT QUIRT SHARE HONORS EVENLY AS HEROES

"What Price Glory?" the merry war film at the Theatre Thursday Friday and Saturday is a screen play without a villain. Another novel feature of it is that you can use your own discretion in picking the hero. Nobody will dispute that the fiery Charmaine, played by Dolores Del Rio, is a more than adequate heroine and that Private Kiper and Lipinsky supply all the comedy necessary.

But who's the hero? It is Captain Flagg the hard-boiled Marine who uses profanity by preference get gorgeously drunk at Bar-le-duc and leads his men into battle as light-heartedly as though he were going on a picnic! Or is it Sergeant Quirt, the rough and bustling leatherneck who knows all the card tricks in the deck steals his superior officers' sweethearts when he gets a chance and takes his war as a matter of course?

Victor McLaglen plays the first and critics says it's his best performance yet, while Edmund Lowe is "the shifty baby" of the second part and so cunningly did Lawrence Stallings one time captain in the Marines himself and Maxwell Anderson construct the play that even on the stage the audience could choose its own hero.

And so the audience can take its choice of the big hearted, bombastic Flagg, and the handsome unscrupulous Quirt. But whichever is the hero they have one thing in common—they are both real men.

INSTITUTE OF CO-OPERATION PROVED SUCCESSFUL

Plans for next year's program of co-operative activities under the auspices of the Wheat Board Surplus Fund trustees were discussed at a meeting held recently in Edmonton. Satisfaction was expressed with the results of the Alberta Institute of Co-operation held during the past season and it is proposed that during the summer of 1929 a number of smaller meetings of a similar nature be held at various points in the province.

By Dr. ARTHUR L. FORSTER

Many of the things that give us the greatest pleasure do us the most harm. To eliminate the harmful elements and at the same time preserve the pleasant properties has been the aim of many persons actuated perhaps more by commercial interest than humanitarian concern. The articles of common usage that have received the most attention in this respect are coffee, alcohol and tobacco Removing the Nicotine

From Tobacco

Alcohol-free drinks and decaffeinated coffee have been on the market for some years and have paved the way for denicotinized tobacco. A considerable number of brands of tobacco from which the nicotine is supposed to have been removed are now available.

They are having a great vogue among smokers who while loath to give up the weed area anxious to escape its baneful effects. But as we shall presently see the use of tobacco that are partially denicotinized are apt to unconsciously do themselves more harm than they did in smoking the untreated leaf

How Tobacco is Denicotinized

The usual method by which some of the nicotine is removed from tobacco is essentially a reweaving process accomplished by treatment with vacuum chambers. Obviously suitable solvents may be used of the tobacco diluted through the addition of nicotine-free leaves entirely unrelated to tobacco.

Inasmuch as the nicotine content of various tobaccos differs so widely it becomes next to impossible to make a correct comparison to processed tobacco. The approximate nicotine values of different types of tobacco are as follows: Virginia 2.5% to 3.5% other domestic brands 2.0% to 3.0%;

Tavana, 1.1% to 2.4%; Turkish 1.0 per cent to 1.5 per cent.

According to analyses made by the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station at New Haven of nearly a score of samples, the processed to-baccoes differ about as much in their nicotine content as do ordinary to-baccoes. As a group they were found to contain somewhat less nicotine than untreated tobacco.

Nicotine Content of Processed Tobacco

Some of the labels of processed to-baccoes announce such statements as "absolutely harmless" or "can be safely smoked by those who otherwise could not smoke." Most of the brands are however honest in their claims limiting themselves to statements indicating merely that the bulk of the nicotine has been removed.

Some denicotinized brands have been found to contain as much nicotine as is commonly found in regular tobaccos; others contain substantially less. The lowest nicotine content found in any sample is 0.75% the lowest reported value of ordinary tobacco is 0.50% of which is doubtless unaccounted. However, certain kinds of tobacco may contain as little as 1 per cent of nicotine.

Danger in Unrestricted Use of Processed Tobacco

Manifestly none of the denicotinized tobaccos examined is sufficiently low in its nicotine content to make it entirely harmless. It may be possible of course to remove all the nicotine from tobacco, but the question arises whether in so doing the chief factor that makes its use desirable would not at the same time be eliminated.
 Moreover it is a fact that nicotine is not the only harmful ingredient of tobacco, so that its removal does not necessarily make the smoking of such tobacco entirely harmless.

There is a further danger connected with the use of denicotinized tobacco.
 The smoker who uses such tobacco may smoke more of it in the belief that it is a harmless one and in unrealized effort to obtain the effects to which he has been accustomed. In either event his actual nicotine consumption may equal if not exceed that afforded by the untreated tobacco he had previously used.

10 POINTS

For Newspaper Advertising

To the merchant who sincerely wishes to make his business profitable, I heartily recommend the following Ten Points for Newspaper Advertising which have brought a high measure of success, prosperity and profit to a big retailer who spends the greater part of his advertising appropriation in good newspaper copy:

1. I advertise regularly. Every issue of the paper takes my story to its readers.
2. I make every ad. look like mine. Years ago I adopted a distinctive style and have stuck to it. I use plenty of white space; my ads. are never hard to read.
3. I put into newspaper advertising a definite proportion of my gross sales I fix this at the beginning of the year. My rule is to make it 3 per cent. of the previous year's gross, with more if special conditions justify.
4. I brighten my ads with frequent illustrations, either humorous or practical. This costs me little, for I subscribe to an advertising cut service and keep the cuts as I buy them listed to use again some time.
5. I am careful never to overpromise. When I make claims I back them up with reasons. Then when I really have an unusual bargain people believe me when I "whop 'er up a little".
6. I think advertising all the time I buy goods that will advertise well. Sometimes I buy goods just for their advertising value.
7. I get good display for my ads. by seeing that the copy is in the newspaper office in plenty of time I do this by having a definite hour to write the copy.
8. Whenever possible, I carry the nationally advertised goods that are advertised in my home paper. I feature them. Sometimes they give me a smaller profit than by night concerns but I find that I sell faster and make more money in the end, besides pleasing more customers.
9. I always plan my window and counter displays to link up with my newspaper advertising. Each helps the other.
10. My sales people back up my advertising. They often help with suggestions for it, and I see to it that they always read it.

"Since I got my car" said one woman
 "I am more careful about buying I got up earlier in the morning, feel better do my work more quickly and more systematically, and I can do ten times as much in a day as I used to. I can be with my children, driving them about showing them things in the right way and we will call for daddy at night. I feel that our little car is a member of the family—it has brought us so much happiness which cannot ordinarily be bought with money. In order to go out during the day I have planned things better in the home so that my work can be done in two or three hours. When I used to stay at home all the time some of it never did get done; I used to have headaches and my husband had to do the marketing at night

BRISTLING DIALOGUE
 IN NEW COHAN FILM

When Vitaphone started the world with the "talking pictures," the dramatists who had all along been aware that the screen could never vie with the legitimate drama, with its subtleties, its nuances, its "stage" quality, conceded that the transference of the voice was well-nigh miraculous; they refused to believe that talking pictures would ever have the pace and authenticity of living people seen and heard on the boards.

Their last defense is broken in "The Home Towners," the latest Vitaphone production, adapted from the George M. Cohan stage play.
 Fast, pungent lines, cruel and witty and acid, with the tang of speech as you hear it in any American conversation, are the very essence of this Warner Bros. production. Scene after scene of the play is reproduced, with the over-and-aside of dialogue. The actors had to rehearse their lines with the same meticulous care for rhythm and reality that obtain on the spoken stage.

As a result, one gets in "The Home Towners" all the illusion of the stage, plus the effects which only the screen can offer.

The entire cast is composed of celebrities who have shared their histrionic experience both on stage and screen, thereby combining the technique of both in this all-Vitaphone production.

Richard Bennett, who heads the notable cast of "The Home Towners," has interpreted leading roles in over 150 successful stage plays. One of his greatest successes, "Damaged Goods," was put into screen form.
 His most recent stage appearance was "The Barker," "They Knew What They Wanted," "He Who Gets Married" and "Jazzman."

Doris Kenyon started her stage career in "Princess Pat," and immediately forsook the stage for pictures. After three years she returned to the stage in "The Girl in the Limousine." Definitely casting her lot with the films, she has scored a success in "The Hawk's Nest,"
 "Turning Daylight," "The Blonde Man" and others.

Creating roles on the stage and then re-enacting them for the screen is the forte of Robert McWade, who portrays the same role in the Vitaphone adaptation of "The Home Towners" as he created on the stage.
 That of a small-town man whose ambitions upset his friend's plans.
 Playing her second important film picture role, Gladys Brustwell who attracted wide attention as "Miss of New York," the first all-talking picture of feature length, presents another forceful characterization in "The Home Towners."

CONTINUATION OF Water & Sewer

Yearly cost to Town—Operating Cost	$1600.00
Debitures, 25 years, 7%	4200.00
Annual Cost	$5800.00
Revenue obtained—(On the sewer lines there are approximately 800-25 foot lots)	$5800.00

(a) Charge to Town as a whole $3500.00
Assess each 25 foot lot on lines $2.80 per year 2300.00

It must be pointed out that the sewer system outlined is for sanitary sewerage only and does not provide for surface drainage of rain water

The above is an outline of the results of our investigations and I trust will serve to give your Council sufficient information as to the probable rates and expenditures involved to allow you to form an opinion regarding the attractiveness, or otherwise, of the proposals. The proposition appears entirely feasible and if an agreement can be reached with your Council we are prepared to go ahead with the necessary field work so that complete plans and specifications can be drawn up this winter in order to let the contracts in the early spring.

Your Committee therefore recommend that a Committee of your Council be appointed to go still further into this matter with a view to the preparation of the necessary Bylaw to govern the whole matter, so that a Debiture issue if found necessary or desirable may be sought from the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, and all other preliminary work in the matter be commenced during the winter months, with a view to having a start made on the actual public works desired at the earliest possible moment in the Spring of 1929

Who does not love the very name of "Christmas", asks Dickens in "The Christmas Carol" knowing well enough that there is no such person, and that if there were his punishment would probably be nothing less horrible than that which proved so effective in the case of the unpleasant Mr. Scrooge. And where, one may ask, is the proper Christmas spirit more truly observable and more thoroughly enjoyed than in England. Back in the dim middle ages Christmas was an English institution and it came down the centuries losing nothing of its charm although customs of celebration changed a little now and then as time went by. But Christmas remained English and is to-day as English as ever wherever English people are gathered.

Outside the British Isles there is no place so English as Victoria. The climate is English, but the still its scenery is English, and best of all, its people are English. Great holly bushes "with red berries" grow in profusion, and English Ivy shrouds the walls of mansion and cottage—what better set up for English revels?

Victoria is this year going to celebrate Christmas in right good Christmas fashion. Old customs, old carols, old music—a Christmas festival that will pull at the heart-strings of English people no matter how many years or generations they have been away from "Home". The celebration will last from Christmas to "Twelfth Night" and will center around the Empress Hotel as one of the musical and historical festivals that have been organized by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Among the features of the Festival will be a presentation of "The Chester Mystery", a play that had its first performance at Chester Abbey, Christmas, 1328, just 600 years ago, when Edward III was on the throne, and about twenty-five years before the battle of Cressy. Christmas customs down through the ages to the time of Dickens will be observed in the costumes of their period and there will be a Christmas play based on Mr. Pickwick's famous Christmas Frolic at "Dingley Dell Farm". The celebration will wind up with a fancy dress ball, and as Victoria is Canada's most popular winter resort the event will be attended by people from all parts of this country and the western States.

One of the plays to be presented on the Chautauque platform which comes to Wainwright early next month is entitled "Let's go Somewhere". This is a three-act comedy by Robert Merrill Sand. It is a story of a modern, home, in which the currents of the old and new meet in tragic-comic conflict. A beautiful love story with a happy ending and a moral for those who care to look for it. It is probably the most up-to-date play being given today. It deals with the problems of the modern life of which we are all familiar. Many young people who see this play will as it were be looking into a mirror and beholding a true reflection of themselves

An account and sickness policy in the Dominion of Canada Insurance Co will pay you $100 per month if you are sick or injured. It will pay you $125 if you are confined to a hospital. See Joe Welch, their local agent about this splendid protection

WAINWRIGHT ALBERTA NOVEMBER 14th, 1928

There has not been a single day since the world began the sun was not shining. The trouble has been with our vision.

Max

TEN YEARS OF PEACE

"O risen Lord, O Shepherd of our flock, whose Cross has brought them and whose Staff has led—
"In glorious hope their proud and sorrowing land
"Commit her children to Thy gracious hand!"

With relentless swing the pendulum has turned the clock until on Sunday last, the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month again was registered another year of peace since the cessation of hostilities ten years ago in the greatest military struggle the world has known.

Ten years ago the armistice was welcomed above all other considerations, because it put an end to the senseless killing and wounding of men in the battle zones.

The anniversary is celebrated above all other considerations, as a memorial day for those who gave their lives that the world at large should enjoy liberty justice and free civilisation.
It is no formal ceremonial; it is the full expression of the deep and abiding gratitude of the nation to those who died for its sake and that of humanity. The heritage of such a memory is one which time cannot with.

"Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn" and while countless thousands still do mourn, the little crosses in the poppy fields of Flanders are mute evidence of man's inhumanity. And it was truly fitting that the service at the theatre on Sunday was such an one as to help the large crowd of listeners to drift back over the past in respectful gratitude to the men who were being memorialised as well as to live that the power of the risen Lord should be exalted.

His teaching spread to the end that wars shall cease for ever from the earth.

With peace on earth, life will be sweeter, man better, and the whole world happier

GREAT STARS COMING

IN GREAT MELODRAMA

"Brass Knuckles" comes to the Elite Theatre next Monday for a run duction and Monte Blue and Betty and Lloyd Bacon directed.

Scenes in prison in the tenements,

THE PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE

During the past few years, a great deal has been learned concerning the prevention of disease and the improvement of health. Today we have a fund of knowledge which if we were to use it, would result in less sickness, fewer deaths and better health, there by increasing the well-being of mankind. The problem that faces public health workers is, first of all, to see that this knowledge is imparted to every individual and then that it is put into every-day practice.

The most successful method of carrying the health message to the individual is through the Public Health Nurse. She might well be called the Health Teacher of the community because that is what she is. By word of mouth she imparts health knowledge by demonstration she shows how to put such knowledge into practice; by encouragement she helps through difficult times that require perseverance; by planning with the mother, she aids in securing proper food for the family.

Because her work is done mostly with individuals, it is not seen by the general public. It is not seen, because it does not advertise itself therefore. The general appreciation of it that there should be. It is not known as it deserves to be, that the education of mothers as to the care of their babies, by public health nurses, is the greatest factor in the reduction of infant deaths. Mothers do not know by instinct how to care for their babies they must be taught. Friendly neighbors and the woman who knows all about babies because "she has buried six" do not make good teachers. The Public Health Nurse is trained; she has modern knowledge to impart.

The citizen who desires to have the babies in his community protected from disease and their health promoted should see that there is a sufficient number of Public Health Nurses to serve the community in which he lives.

MIGHTIER THAN WAR

THE MOTOR CAR

The automobile is mightier than the machine gun, according to figures compiled by two safety people in a western service station. For the total number of American soldiers killed in the war from all causes were 77,118.
The total number wounded were 221,059.
But the total number of people killed in automobile accidents in the United States since the war adds up to 106,218 while the total number injured by motor cars is 450,000.

Interesting figures, eh? Well what can we do about it? Answer is: NO-THING! until we—

Eliminate the drunken driver;
Abolish the under-age driver;
Get rid of the beat-the-traffic driver;

Run the road hog into a bottomless ditch;

Teach the non-signaling driver mor-
sign language;

Beat the smartness out of the smart driver;

And just naturally pound some common ordinary horse-sense into the bone-headed driver's head even if we have to use a sledge hammer.

But who will do all these things? I can't and neither can you

Perhaps you, reader, have a better solution.

'Let's hear it!'

GOV'T ACKNOWLEDGES
MACHINES TO MEASURE
MOISTURE CONTENT

TORONTO—The invention of a machine for the measuring almost instantly to the slightest fraction, the moisture in any substance as it depends on the electrical conductivity was acknowledged at Ottawa and confirmed by the physics department of the University of Toronto where the invention has been perfected.

The machine which has caused a sensational among practical industrial leaders as well as scientists has been perfected by Arnold Pitt, a graduate of the department of physics working under the direction of Dr. E. E. Burton.

The new invention reduces hours to seconds in measuring the moisture of wheat and is accurate. It takes some hours to make a "run" of wheat under present methods of moisture measurements and at the university they now do it in ten minutes by the use of the new machine, it is stated.

the inaugural ceremonies were held ister of telephones and the programme was as follows:

Governor Robert of Alberta, talked

FLOUR IS MADE
DIRECT FROM WHEAT

A continental scientist named Gross has discovered a process of making dough directly from the grain. The wheat first goes into a husk-removing machine in which the grains receive a strenuous shaking in hot water for about a half an hour.

Thence they pass into cold water reservoir through which compressed air is forced stirring up the grain and carrying away the repurified husks.
Here the grain is cleaned for ten minutes.

The grain is released from the bottom of the reservoir on to a rolling mill in which it is crushed into dough.
Salt and yeast are added during the crushing and if necessary water but as a rule the grain absorbs sufficient water in the husking process.

As it emerges from the mill the dough is ready for mixing and baking in the ordinary way.

The bread is wholesome free from husks but the valuable bran is retained and more bread is produced from a given quantity of grain than is possible when wheat passes through a flour mill.

BY R. M. SHERRILL
(Radio Engineer)

Setting at last upon a plan that four of the five commissioners have signed the United States Radio Commission is putting into effect its attempt to carry out the provisions of the Davis Amendment that required the equal distribution of wave lengths and power among the five zones of the country.

This plan like all of the others submitted is bound to result in hardships for some broadcasters but it is a compromise that is already bringing better entertainment to the listening public.

The plan provides for full time assignments for 100 watt stations equaling in number the total of all other classes of broadcasters put together.

Of the 74 channels made available for high grade reception, 34 are assigned for regional service permitting 125 full time positions for this type of station and 40 channels are assigned to stations with minimum power of 5,000 watts. On these forty channels only one station is permitted to operate at any time during night hours thus insuring clear reception of the station's program up to the extreme limit of its service range. These forty channels are assigned eight to each of the five zones thus insuring wide geographical distribution of the country's higher power broadcasting facilities.

On the 35 channels shared by regional stations ranging in power from 250 to 1,000 watts and assigned two three or four per channel spacing of 1,000 to 15,000 miles have been observed.

Throughout the whole allocation wide geographical spacing have been observed on adjoining channels in order to eliminate objectionable cross talk.

Summarizing by zones the equal division of the foregoing facilities among the five zones provides each with 8 full time assignments for stations of 5,000 watts and above; 24 positions for 500 watt and 1,000 watt stations and 30 positions for 50 watt and 100 watt stations.

Byrd Expedition Well Stocked With Radio Tubes

The extent to which Commander Byrd is going to employ radio in his antarctic expedition may be judged from the fact that he is carrying with him almost 500 radio tubes. A little less than 100 of this number are for transmitting purposes and the others for receiving.

Such a quantity is being taken to make communication certain. However should the supply become low it is planned to rebuild receivers and transmitters to accommodate a smaller number of tubes.

At this rate Byrd should be able to make the world hum with the news of his expedition.

Power For Set Supplied By Sun

It is reported that a M. Pasteur has presented before the Academy of Sciences his invitation for obtaining all the necessary current for operating a radio receiver from the sun's rays. An arrangement of thermocouples is used for transforming the heat of the sun into an electric current.

Personally I think we had better stick to operating our sets with batteries. Especially, when you consider that the sun's rays are rather weak at night and that cloudy weather etc. would not help reception very much either.

RADIO QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—N. Y. A. asks: "Is it true that it is not possible to make a super-heterodyne receiver using the AC tubes?"

Ans:—There have been several kits for superheterodynes operating on AC tubes put out.

Q—B. C. S. asks: "Are there very many U.S. stations broadcasting on short wave lengths? I would like to build a short wave set if there are enough broadcasters on these waves."

STUDENTS OF THE BIBLE DEPOSED

of an amount and thoroughness of research work that went into the making of Warner Bros. production "Noah's Ark," one of the best pictures promised this season, are as a phases of history are figured in the result has been that many letters have reached the Warner Bros. regarding some things and a noticeable fact about the pictures is that they contain an undercurrent of belief.

What whatever the Warner did in the matter was a thoroughly correct.

It is known that the interior of the Ark furnishes one of the big spectacles in the picture and it has puzzled many students as to how the scenes of the huge floating ark, for it had to be huge to hold that it contained, were arrived at as well as on what was based the structural appearance of the Ark's interior. One writer said that while he had searched, he had never been able to find a picture purporting to show the interior of the Ark.

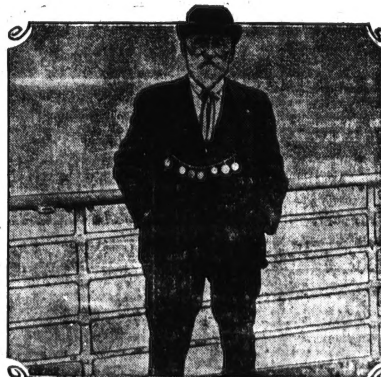

Of course, Vitaphone is to enter largely into several of the scenes in "Noah's Ark." This was announced early in the production activities and it was also told that the Tower of Babel would be shown exactly as it was originally constructed.

One of the late queries sent by a writer in Kansas was about this one scene. "What part would the ark have in the scene showing the Tower?" was one of the questions, and another was, "How was it arranged to make clear the babel of scenes that issued from the Tower?"

The number of questions regarding the picture mean anything it is this is being awaited with a good deal of pleasant anticipation.

As is known Dolores Costello and George O'Brien have the chief roles in "Noah's Ark," and the action flows from the present times to those of the flood. Miss Costello is said to have a wonderfully fine role in the picture and one in which she is expected to show the best work of her brilliant career on the screen.

AT AGE OF 104

JURGIS SKINDERIS, 104 years old who arrived in New York City the other day to make his home with his son. In point of years he is the oldest person to ever cross the ocean so far as is known.

Skinderis is a native of Lithuania stands six feet tall and weighs about 190 pounds. He still has his own strong white teeth he never drinks liquor and smokes but rarely. He has no need for glasses and never was under a doctor's care until just before his departure for America.

He asserts that if he likes it here he will sell his interests in the old country and spend for his wife to make it worth while.

Ans:—There are approximately 35 U.S. stations broadcasting on wave-lengths below 300 meters.

Q—D. C. A. says: "I have completed building a short wave receiver for use in receiving WGY and KDKA on their short wave broadcast. I am having difficulty in tuning them in however as they fade away into a whistle whenever I take my hand away from the dial. How can I remedy this?"

Ans:—First arrange your circuit so that the condenser shaft and other controls may be grounded. Also provide a metal shielded panel and ground the shield. It may be well also to place the apparatus as far back of the panel as possible.

"I can't—I can't tell you anything," Rose's voice caught in choking sobs. "That story won't do you know? The Professor jibed 'Come across now before I—he started to reach towards her."

"Oh no! Please! Can't you see I don't know anything about the robbery? Oh why can't you let me alone? She tried to turn away from the man."

hypnotic gaze but his eyes held her spellbound.
"You're lying," The Professor jumped to his feet catching the girl by the shoulders and lifting her up until he looked squarely into her eyes. "You and that lover of yours were planning to slip away with the money!"
Rose stared at him in horror. She could scarcely believe that she had heard his aright. "Lover—Chuck her lover! She drew back disgusted relucted. With a sudden burst of frenzy she struggled to release herself. But Hamlinway's grip only tightened and he shook her as a cat shakes a mouse.

"But up you trot! The Professor shook her roughly. Your lover's nowhere around. He's gone long ago."

"I don't believe it—I don't believe it!" Rose cried still striving to escape from the claw-like clutch of those tenebrous fingers.

In the struggle her negligee fell from her shoulder, revealing the rounded whiteness of her delicate flesh. She tried to gather the gown more loosely about her but the Professor's eyes were already upon the marble-blep loveliness of her body devouring her beauty. Slowly his arms closed about her.

"Let me go! Let me go!" Rose was shrieking hysterically trying in vain to push the man away from her.

"Oh no you don't! He caught her hands holding them fast in one of his. His other arm went around her, cradling her closer and closer his hot lips sinking deep into the softness of her neck.

"No Don't Please stop!" Rose was almost beside herself driven by this new terror. Crying shrieking calling for Chuck she battled against the overpowering strength of the man. With an almost superhuman effort she wrenched herself free and ran towards the door.

With a contemptuous laugh the Professor planted himself firmly before the one exit watching her futile efforts to escape with something of amusement on his face.

Pale and trembling Rose leaned against the bed-post searching madly for some way out. Her eyes fell upon the window. With a sudden dash she rushed to the window, tugging at the sash to open it. But the Professor was already upon her pinioning her arms in his grasp. Slowly he bore her backwards. His arms went about her. Easily he lifted her off her feet kicking struggling clawing at his face tugging at his hair.

His kisses were hot on her lips. He covered her face with lascivious caresses. His arms were about her bearing her down—down into an abyss of horrible fear and shame. His fingers bruised the white flesh leaving little red marks on the tender skin. He clutched at the negligee the gown tearing from his face grim and determined paying no heed to the vain attempts of the girl to release herself.

And then Rose's teeth sank deep into the back of his hand. With an infuriated cry of mingled pain and rage he drew back catching at his hurt member. Like a flash Rose was on her feet running across the room. Once more she attempted to dart towards the door but once more the Professor was already ahead of her. Rose flung herself at him beating his chest with her clenched fists but he only laughed that knowing cynical laugh. She tried to reach the lock but he caught hold of her arm and slowly drew her towards him.

Meanwhile the low moving local crept at a snail's pace through the night. Against the windows griny with smoke and dust the rain beat in driving sheets splashing and splashing the panes seeping in from underneath the sashes and mingling with the heavy coating of coal dust on the inner edges. A swaying smoking eel-like lamp swung back and forth in the center of the car shedding a sickly yellow glow over the five occupants of the coach.

A strange group these people made. Molly leaning her arm against the dirty window sill her feet propped up on the seat opposite was lazily smoking a cigarette. Beside her sat Mug his loose hairy head thrown back in the pale light. Behind them Sparrow lolled against the window staring out in the night. Across from him sat Chuck his one eye now turning a blue black nursing his bruises as the train jolted along over the wet rails.

At his side was Lefty his hand thrust deep into his pocket gripping a gun that kept its ever watchful nose against the boy's ribs. Silently they rode along each busy with his own thoughts. Chuck looked around at his companions as though measuring their strength by the way one against four and those four were desperate. If he could only make a get away! He shuddered as he thought of Rose back there in that lonely house with no one save the Professor. Desperate he turned to the man beside him a pleading look on his tense drawn face.

CHAPTER XVII
"Aw Lefty for God's sake have a beer! Lemme go! He began I won't pull nothing I gotta get back her her. Damn ya shut up! The Mug twisted about in his seat throwing the words over his shoulder with an evil sneer.

Molly's elbow dug into his side. The Mug looked up quickly to see the conductor entering the coach. The trainman swayed down the aisle calling for tickets. The Mug reached into his pocket and pulled out the bits of paste board and held them up.

Chuck could feel the weapon pressed more tightly against him. He looked up as though to speak and then evidently thought better of it, for he turned away and stared intently out the window.

The conductor took the tickets clip ping them with his punch and handed them back to Mug. "Change at Ashville," he announced grating with no uncertain interest at these people. They certainly looked like peculiar customers. However it was none of his affairs who travelled on the trains so long as they paid their fares and caused no trouble. And so he shrugged his shoulders and swung on down the aisle and through the door into the carriage ahead.

"Say listen," Chuck began again as soon as the outsider had left them. "Can't you be a good sport and—"

"It ya don't close per trap damn quick I'm gonna bean ya. The Mug turned once more his eyes hard and cold. "Ain't ya had enough fer one night?" he retorted concluding the conversation by turning around once more and retreating down into his seat.

Again they rode along in silence. Chuck gazing steadily out of the window his eyes troubled unheeding the little trickles of water that ran along the window ledge dampening his chest and coat sleeve. In the midst of his preoccupation he felt a slight movement against his foot. Slowly he allowed his eyes to travel down towards the floor and now could see the Sparrow's arrow shoe edging closely along his.

The Sparrow neither looked at Chuck nor did he move his foot away immediately. After a while his hand went into his pocket. The movement caused Lefty to look up quickly but the smaller man was merely drawing out a package of cigarettes. He extracted one and crushed the paper packet in his hand throwing it out into the aisle. He found a match and lit the cigarette. Then he looked up at Chuck.

"Wanna butt, kid? He drawled, his gray eyes still half closed. But somewhere in their depths Chuck found the answer to Sparrow's question. "Sure," he nodded.

"That's the last one I got he announced as though the fact had been perceptible. But with the kindness of an old man tried friend he broke the cigarette in half and stood up leaning forward so that he could place the unlighted half in the boy's mouth.

They what's the big idea Lefty muttered looking at Chuck. "Nothing," Can't I give the kid a light? He put the hand nearest Lefty into his pocket searching for a match. He brought one out struck it on the red plush seat and leaned closer towards Chuck. A sudden lurch of the train threw him forward. He caught himself flinging out his hand to the back of the boy's seat. At the same moment the hand nearest the window. The Sparrow nodded leaning back his

VALUABLE SALT STRIKE MADE AT WATERWAYS

An important discovery indicating the wealth of resources in the north ern part of Alberta is announced in this striking of a deep bed of salt in the test well being drilled at Waterways under the direction of the Provincial Department of Railways. Salt was encountered at a depth of 670 feet and the drill which has now reached the depth of 888 feet is still passing through this formation. Further tests are planned to determine the probable extent of these valuable salt deposits.
